I, the undersigned, do hereby attest and agree that:

(i) whenever I have electronically signed (i) the signature page of a document to be filed with or submitted to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), or (ii) any other document authenticating, acknowledging or otherwise associated with and adopting my signature on such a document, my electronic signature shall constitute the legal equivalent of my manual signature for purposes of authenticating my signature to the Commission filing or submission for which it is provided;

(ii) any person required to make or assist in making a filing with or submission to the Commission may rely on my electronic signature to the signature page of such filing or submission, or to any other document authenticating, acknowledging or otherwise associated with my signature on such filing or submission, as evidence of my consent to my signature being added to such filing or submission (together with any other necessary information, including the date to be used for such signature, filing, or submission) and to such filing or submission being made with the Commission, unless and until such person receives my express revocation of this attestation in writing;

(iii) Any person making a filing with the Commission which I have signed electronically is authorized to retain the original or an electronically stored copy of this attestation for as long as my authorization to use my electronic signature to satisfy the requirements under Rule 302 of Regulation S-T is in effect, and for a minimum of seven years after the date of the most recent electronically signed filing or submission; and

(iv) I consent to any person furnishing a copy of this attestation (which may be retained and stored via electronic means) to the Commission upon its request.
